

Earthworks

An Exhibition by the Ceramic Arts Association of Western Australia

Mining Hall of Fame 15th September - November 2006

More than 15 members of the Ceramic Arts Association of Western Australia have submitted works for the Earthworks exhibition and the collection is a varied and aesthetic delight.

From functional pots to ornamental scenes and wall hangings, the Ceramic Arts Association of Western Australia has brought together a stunning collection of pieces for Earthworks.

The Ceramic Arts Association of Western Australia is a group dedicated to promoting the production and appreciation of the ceramic medium and to raise the profile of the ceramic arts. Gathering together with other such passionate practitioners can't help but facilitate a creative and enthusiastic atmosphere that has helped generate remarkable artworks. The CAAWA encourages ideas, information and communication between ceramicists in regional areas and national and international ceramic associations.

The CAAWA has used the Kalgoorlie Goldfields mining landscape for inspiration in creating pieces for this exhibition at the Mining Hall of Fame.

The art of ceramics has strong ties with the minerals industry through the creation of glazes and clays; it is from the earth that these pieces have ultimately been created.

The Earthworks exhibition will be officially opened by CAAWA President Stewart Scambler on Friday the 15th of September at 7.00pm.

Please join us for a special preview of what promises to be a popular exhibition.

The exhibition runs until November and is open 9.00 am to 4.30 pm daily

Artworks from top: Gill Treichel, Frances Dennis, Murray Brown, Britta Stolle Jacob and Sandra Black